

Col (R) Donald A. Gagliano, MD, MHA, FACHE, CPC joins Guardion's Science Advisory Board

San Diego, California – March 3, 2014. – Guardion Health Sciences, a leading provider of verifiable and validated solutions in the areas of Ocular Health, is pleased to announce that Dr. Donald Gagliano has joined its Science Advisory Board.

"We are honored to have Dr. Gagliano join our team. He brings a long record of distinctive accomplishments in the global eye community," said Michael Favish, CEO, Guardion Health Sciences. "He will play a leading role as we continue to develop and deliver innovative solutions to physicians and their patients in markets around the world."

About Guardion Health Sciences

Guardion Health Sciences, LLC, is a San Diego-based nutraceutical and medical device company committed to increasing awareness about the role of certain factors in age-related eye diseases and the importance of specific ingredients in ocular supplements (notably lutein, zeaxanthin and meso-zeaxanthin, among others). The company's initial nutritional supplement, Lumega-Z, is the most scientifically formulated supplement for the treatment of AMD and overall body health.

###